Attendance at the day's festivities, featured by an old-fashioned water-melon cutting, the crowning of Miss Lala Keen, daughter of a farmer, by Governor Russell as queen and a grand ball tonight, was estimated at 5,000.

The occasion was the opening of the harvesting season in the melon section of the state and was held here because Moultrie is the largest shipping center of melons in the area.

After Governor Russell had addressed the gathering in the interest of his campaign for the United States senate in opposition to Congressman Charles R. Crisp in which he cited a three-point program for aiding the nation's farmers, Edwards spoke and offered criticism of various state departments.

9:15 eastern time. On arrival Congressman Crisp said: "I have had the busiest three months of my life and I have now come to Georgia a few days in advance of my address to get the quiet and the rest which I need in the preparation of my address. "Fortunately the house has nothing before it for immediate consideration, it having just completed action on the relief bill which was sent to the senate before I left Washington. This leaves me free for at least a few days, which I will devote to rest and the preparation of my speech. "Ed Maddox has been kind enough to arrange for a quiet place in the north Georgia mountains, where I may concentrate on the address I am to deliver next Tuesday evening in Atlanta. Until then I have nothing to say about my campaign other than I am daily in receipt of most satisfactory advices from all parts of the state." The flight, he said, would be for the two-fold purpose of establishing a distance record and promoting international trade. In this connection he planned to visit the principal capitals of Europe before returning to the United States in the plane by way of Ireland.

He said he would fly the Roma, in which he made a one-stop flight to Rome in 1927, with the name changed to "International Trader." He announced he would have a co-pilot and probably two or three passengers.

Chancellor North will report his decision to the bishop of Norwich who will call a bishop's court and pronounce his judgment.

The rector, wearing a silk hat and carrying a tightly-wrapped umbrella, arrived in court 15 minutes late, accompanied by his son and daughter and several friends.

He quickly recovered from the shock of the verdict and upon leaving the court, accompanied by a dozen young girls who elbowed each other to get close to him, he told reporters, "I am not in the least surprised. I expected it. I don't know what I shall do."

He said he may consult Coknsel regarding an appeal. "My plans are quite uncertain," he smiled, tipping his hat to the crowd, "except that I am going to have coffee now." At this point several press photographers steepped up and the rector posed willingly.

"How do I look, guilty?" he demanded.

After the pictures were taken he asked the photographers to send him copies for his scrapbook, and proceeded to a restaurant.

CHERBOURG, France, July 8.—

An unofficial explanation of the cause of the disaster was the story of one of the seven survivors.

He was a sailor who was on the deck when the Promethee went down.

There was a loud hissing noise which brought the captain up from below in a hurry, he said.

As soon as he got out of the hatch, the captain roared an order to all hands to go below and to close all the doors.

Then the Promethee slid out from under their feet. There was nothing to stop the sea from pouring into the open door.
Lieutenant Du Mesnil was quoted as having said that perhaps on of his men had started the diving apparatus by mistake.

NATIONAL, STATE CANDIDATES BUSY

Crisp Arrives; Oratory Heard at South Georgia Watermelon Feast.

National, state, district and Fulton county candidates claimed part of the political spotlight Friday despite the oratory that atteaded the south Georgia watermelon feast at Moultrie.

In the national area, the arrival of Congressman Charles R. Crisp from Washington was the high spot in the day's developments. The dean of Georgia's delegation, a candidate for a seat in the senate, was met in Atlanta by W. W. Dykes, G. Ed Maddox, managers of his campaign, and driven to the mountains for a short rest before delivering his opening speech here Tuesday night. Governor Russell, his opponent, was at Moultrie.

Speaking dates for Eugene Talmadge and Abit Nix, candidates for governor, were announced from their respective headquarters here and at Athens.

Talmadge will speak today at Statesboro at 11 o'clock and at Claxton at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Monday he will be at Cartersville, Tuesday at Talbotton and Cairo, Wednesday at Dawson and Ellaville, Thursday at Talbotton and Newnan, Friday at Blairsville and Clayton and Saturday at Hamilton and Franklin.

In announcing the speaking engagements for Nix, Senator J. M. Nix, the caudidate's father, issued a statement deploring the personal animosities that are being engendered in the campaign. Nix will speak Monday at Rome, Tuesday at Cartersville, Wednesday at Dalton and Calhoun, Thursday at Apalachee, Friday at Kromer's mill in Franklin county and Saturday at Maxeys.

The fifth district congressional race showed signs of activity, as three candidates opposing Robert Ramspeck, incumbent, continued their campaign to unseat the 41-year-old Decatur attorney.

Channing Cope, well-known civic club leader, is running on a platform to repeal the eighteenth amendment, and Walter McElreath, also prominent in civic affairs, is a candidate on a platform favoring resubmission of the prohibition amendment. Joe Hill Smith, Atlanta attorney, has "indorsed every word" of the democratic national platform.

Ramspeck's position on the eighteenth amendment, based on a statement he made last May, is that, under existing conditions, the only method by which Georgians could vote their convictions would be in a referendum provided by act of the legislature, He has said that he does not oppose such a referendum.

Thomas Croom Partridge, Fulton county candidate fop the state sennet, issued a statement attacking the plan of former Mayor Walter A. DISMISSED KEEPER ENTERS BEAR'S CAGE AND MEETS DEATH

CLEVELAND, July 8.—(R)—Fifteen minutes after he lost his job as an animal keeper, Thomas Earl, 56, walked into a pen at the Brookside zoo, locked the gate behind him and was clawed to death today by a 900-pound Russian brown bear.

Earl was trying to force the bear, named Sunshine because of an ordinarily docile disposition, into a pit when the animal in a sudden rage turned on him.

The beast rose on his haunches, grabbed Earl by the shoulders with a paw and began strangling and clawing him at the same time, said Edward Hagan, tender of the lions and tigers.

The history of the Seaboard Air Line virtually is part and parcel of the growth and development of Atlanta and the south. The road holds the distinction of serving the capitol cities of six southern states—Georgia, Florida, Alahama, North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia.

Diverting back to records of Atlanta in 1892 one finds a comparatively small, but steadily growing community, which claimed a population of 65,533 in 1890, and in 1893 the area of borough Atlanta totaled 9.6 miles. In those days there were no towering industrial and commercial skyline, with few buildings of any noticeable height and no viaducts. In most sections of the city red clay roads and

COVERS 4,481 MILES.

In 1892 the system had 925.37 miles of trackage. An illustration of its growth the system today has 4,481.12 miles—an increase of 387 per cent in 40 years. Further indicating its progress with railroad transportation, providing every form of conveniences to its passengers, its freight services, the road in 1892 had 60-pound rails. Now it has 100-pound rails—that's the standard.

Reviewing the growth of the Seaboard, Fred Geissler, reneral passenger agent, who has been a mighty happy connection and further expressed the belief that the south will respond more than any other section of the country when the general business tide turns.

"And the Seaboard is better prepared to handle its business than at any time in its history," he said. "The railroad is in better fiscal condition in its history. Our system has never deteriorated, and we have taken advantage of existing conditions the last few years to make improvements."

men for a period of about these or four months. The amount expended for labor will be around $110,000.

Mr. Tate demonstrated his unselfish activities in obtaining the use of Georgia marble for the building by accepting the contract without profit, except the actual labor cost. The Georgia Marble Company is actually losing money, but from the standpoint of civic pride and feeling Atlanta is entitled to a marble postoffice, "we wanted to add our contribution to bring this about," Mr. Litchfield said.

WORK TO START SOON.

It will take about 30 days to work up the shop drawings for the architect's approval. Above is a beautiful prospectus of the mammoth governmental structure as prepared by A. Ten Eyck Brown, the architect.

There will be no delay in the erection of the building as the steel now is being molten and the granite work will start immediately the comptroller general announces his final decision.

When completed Atlanta's great postoffice will stand as another monument of beautiful stand as another monument of beautiful to rank alongside of some of the most beautiful 6. Completion of the structure within 18 months, Georgia marble was selected in the rection of the huge building because t combines sheer beauty with the actuality and atmosphere of strength and solidarity so essential to the character of a governmental institution.

COLONEL TATE PRAISED.

Colonel Sam Tate, president of the Georgia Marble Company at Tate, Ga., has been showered with congratulations for his untiring efforts in making possible the use of Georgia marble and his contribution of the marble required for the job.

The rough stock will be quarried at Tate and shipped out to the company's plant at Marietta for fabrication and then shipped on to Atlanta. "We really do not contemplate any trouble from the comptroller general in the final approval of the contract for Georgia marble," said H. L. Litchfield, vice president of the Georgia Marble Company. VALUE OF SAVINGS STRESSED BY BANKER

Stressing the value of savings—from nickles and dimes to more substantial sums—in times of prosperity as well as during periods of depression, C. P. Hunter, assistant secretary and treasurer, of the Georgia Savings Bank & Trust Company Friday declared that many men have recently learned by experience thete is no substitute for a strong reserve fund in a sound bank.

"Many others more fortunate are too intelligent to let this lesson go by without doing something about it," he said.

by without doing something about it," he said.

Mr. Hunter further emphasized the fact that most young men begin their careers without any capital, and that, in addition to education, parents should give their sons and daughters their spare pennies, nickles, dimes and other reasonable amounts for deposit, thus forming for them a foundation for future independence.

"Encourage children to save," he advises parents by setting this sound and essential example yourselves."

LIFE INSURANCE

THE FORMULA of SUCCESS

The Life underwriter knows that the average man who buys life insurance needs two things in return for his premium payments—protection for his family in case of his death; sufficient income to make his life comfortable in his old age.

Life insurance can be explained in plain, everyday language. The facts can be simply stated. People need to be told about life insurance by one who knows life insurance and its adaptability. Salesmen of integrity, ability and courage who will work systematically and plainly state the facts of life insurance service will be Masters of their craft and successful.

The life insurance companies listed below, with their long history of increasing success, offers opportunity. They write annuities and all standard forms of life in-

WOMAN EDITOR SPEAKS OUT.

Under the caption "These Damned Trucks," Mrs. Charles E. Brown, editor of the Cordele Daily Dispatch, comments forcefully on the new peril of the highways caused by the increasingly large number of huge trucks and buses which are now using for commercial purposes roads primarily constructed for passenger cars.

mals, this outspoken Georgia woman of war. editor sets out that "a trip of a thousand miles across the highways sure to meet one of these mechani- of international troubles. cal monsters, charging down upon him with a deep-throated roar and a steady sfream of fire pouring from its belly, their long powerful tails, hitched close to their bodies, lashing cruelly back and forth across the road as they thunder along"

The editorial terms the trucks and buses moral, if not legal, outlaws which are not only rapidly destroying the highways but are taking an unfair advantage of "the railroads, now almost on the rocks; of the traveling public, now unable to venture forth in safety, and of Mr. Dumbjohn Taxpayer, who squawks loudly and lustily, but never appropriately or effectively."

There can be no reasonable objection to the use of public highways by trucks of reasonable size and weight, but the continued use of the roads by huge motor carriers constantly growing larger will result in the certain destruction of the roads by huge motor carriers of transports.

Since the decrease in immigration is accounted for by the falling off in southern Europeans and Mexican peons who have shown the least ability to absorb American ideals, is accounted for by the falling off in southern Europeans and Mexican ability to absorb American ideals. the present immigration and emigration drift represents a distinct purification of our population of the elements which have contributed most largely to crime conditions throughout the country.

These low-class aliens have also een responsible for many of the abor troubles of the past decade so that the thinning out of their ranks should have a distinct effect in improving labor conditions,

America is justly proud of the fact that it is the human melting pot of the world, but there can be no argument against barring such aliens as cannot be assimilated, or of deporting those who have already come into the country. When illustrated journals appeared on the streets of Berlin and other big cities picturing clergymen as "stoolpigeons of imperialist robbers,", etc., the measure was deemed full and the government intervened. There was an amazing repercussion which I witnessed. Everywhere in Berlin parades of protest were organized. What type of men belong to Herr Hitler's organization? I just attended a Hitler mass meeting of alout 10,000 people in a Berlin park. The chief himself wasn't present, one of his lieutenants did the talking this time. The 10,000 were for the most part youths, adolescents, hoodlums, who shouted a lot, but who ran like hares when the police came to dis-perse the forbidden assembly.

These autonomic functions, such as the beating of the heart, the breathing, and the various stages the breathing, and the various stages the breathing, and the various stages of digestion, are always better performed if one keep's one mind off from them, or better, if one's mind is occupied with pleasant thoughts.

The desire that tells a normal person it is time to evacuate is a "muscle sense" produced by distension of the terminal part of the alimentary tube. It is a crude, a ludicrous notion that the colon is a "sewer which

A little substation for the autonomic or "sympathetic" nervous system, in the abdomen, is called Auerbach's plexus, and this has been dubbed the "brain of the intestine" by Professor Carlson, a distinguished physiologist. It is a brain much older and better organized than that of man, says Dr. Horace W. Soper, St. Louis internist, yet man lightly interferes with a biological function established in all forms of life throughout the ages.

The normal condition of the contents of the lower colon in all vertebrates, including man, is dry. Victims of autointoxication obsession, imagine restoration of normal bowel function consists in attempting to change the contents of the colon from dry to liquid, by means of freak diets, habitual use of medicines, enemas or irrigations.

On both sides of the capitol the spectacle was afforded of wet republicans entreating the democrats, in the name of the new repeal and modification plank, to help them put through the beer legislation.

After beckoning futilely for two days for united support from the democratic side, Senator Bingham said hopes he had held that the democratic prohibition plank meant that members of the party in the senate would join his move for beer were unfounded.

The house beer petition was read by Representative La Guardia, republican, New York. It said with both parties now on record "for a change" in the prohibition policy of the United States, "there can be no honest justification" for delay.

During the senate debate, Barbour, questioned by Glass, democrat, Virginia, said he personally does not favor the prohibition plank adopted by his party.

Letters From a Bald-Headed Dad to a Flapper Daughter BY ROBERT QUILLEN

My dear Louise: I hope your date with the Jones boy taught you a lesson.

There's no harm in the boy, and going out with him does no injury to a girl's reputation. But he is a deadful bore and no girl could spend three consecutive hours with him without feeling a desire to scream.

You knew that. Yet you elected to spend an evening with him and suffer for your sins rather than sit at home alone. You accepted a tiresome date rather than have no date at If it was a choice between two evils, and you really preferred yawning in company father

But there are girls who regard a dateless evening as a misfortune only one degree removed from disgrace. And when ill fortune denies them enjoyable company, they are will-ROBERT QUILLEN ing to accept any pest who offers his service.

If they did it to escape a greater boredom it wouldn't seem so fool ish, but the isn't the idea. They regard a date—any kind of date—as another scalp. It is something to impress the neighbors—something to make dateless girls envious—another victory, however small, in the minine game of catching males.

If that was the idea in the back of your head, you need a word of caution concerning the dangers inherent in keeping up with the Joneses.

I have known two girls who were too eager to demonstrate their ability as man-catchers and too anxious to impress the neighbors. Both made it a practice to accept dates they didn't want rather than run the risk of seeming unpopular. One of them, rather desperately determined to prove her ability to snare a husband, married the first poor stick who offered himself and spent the next five years longing for her freedom and another

The other married a rich man she didn't love and quickly discovered that the business of impressing the neighbors doesn't provide enough ego-fodder to compensate for the loss of liberty and happiness. The point is that one fool thing leads to another. The girl who dates merely to prove that she can may get the habit and

"Walk-Out-Week" in Hollywood.

Practically every lot in the industry may claim a walkout before the confusion settles. That is, if the cameramen of the village stand together and the technicians and all but the "art" end of the industry. FRIENDLY COUNSEL BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

A group of high school girls wish some discussion of trained nursing as a profession for girls that for one reason or another do not or cannot take a college degree. These days the first class city hospitals require a high school diploma for matriculation in their training school and any girl that contemplates taking up nursing as a profession must realize that it is not enough to go through high school.

"Here all the tragedy of the not enough to go through high scho she must come out with a diploma.

An experienced nurse, executive in a large hospital, tells me that she turns down dezens of girls every year that apply for entrance in the hospital because they lack the high school diplomas. In the old days many a girl that was bored with school took the hospital as a means of escape from the deadly monotony of it and entered training much as one would go on a trip. That day is past. The very word profession implies that the person entering it shall have at least a modicum of learning. The profession of nursing is no exception.

"Here all the tragedy of the world is gathered under one roof. I had had no preparation for it, nor for the human wreckage I was to encounter. I had had no knowledge whatever of the cruelty, of the brutality, or the starvation. But I served my probationary period of three years, and I ran the course as best I could. By the time I was ready to graduate there was no phase of human life and human suffering which I had not touched. And there was born in me something which has never died, which cannot die; a terrible and often devastating pity and compassion for the weak and the sick and the humble. Those years in the hospital entirely changed my sense of values."

SANE THINKING URGED IN TALK BY MAYOR KEY

Sane thinking in these times "of economic and spiritual depression" and a reawakening of the moral strength of our forefathers were urged Friday by "layor James L. Key as he addressed members of the Atlanta Post No. 1, American Legion, in the civic room of the Ansley hotel.

TOM MORRIS OUSTED AS PRISON FARM HEAD

Tom C. Morris, suspended super-intendent of the city prison farm, Fri-day was ousted from his position and replaced by Jim Ellis, for 18 years an employe of the municipality, follow-ing approval by Mayor James L. Key of a council resolution placing conduct of the farm under a special council committee.

Councilman George B. Lyle, chairman of the streets committee, was designated by the mayor as head of the new committee to direct the farm. Other members were named as follows: Councilman J. Frank Beck, vice chairman: G. Dan Bridges and Raymond R. Curtis and Alderman W. W. Waits.

mond R. Curtis and Alderman W. W. Waits.

The committee immediately selected Ellis as Morris' successor, Lyle explaining that the new committee does not "know Morris and that it has a right to direct the farm independent of anything which has gone before." This was construed as an effort on the part of the new committee to close the Morris episode, and his impending trial on charges of misconduct of the farm while its directing head probably will not be held.

City Attorney James L. Mayson ruled Thursday that passage of the resolution placing the farm under another committee would transfer jurisdiction in the matter from the streets committee, which formerly directed the farm, to the new committee.

and good play is given on the hand shown below: South—Dealer. Both sides vulnerable.

South, with his commanding spade suit and 5 1-2, honor-tricks, opened with the Forcian bid of two in a suit and eventually reached the contract of six spades, after his partner had responded with three hearts. The bidding was not greatly over-optimistic, and with any Opening except the one which was clearly marked in West's hand was makable against any defense.

West's hand was makable against any defense.

The natural lead was the King of diamonds, and if South made the mistake of winning the first diamond trick, the contract could never be made. It was, of course, apparent that the heart suit in the Dummy would furnish discards for the losers in South's hand, but they were beyond his reach, unless care was taken in the manner in which one of the two entries in the Dummy was used.

Mr. Young was the only player to make six spades. He refused to win the first diamond trick, and thus left to West the problem of deciding how the hand should be further developed. Whatever shift West now made, the Slam contract was assured. If a spade was led, then all the trumps would be drawn, followed by the Ace-King of hearts, and the diamond Ace

Play Well and Be Lucky

"To achieve the ultimate in Bridge, as in life," Mr. Harry W. Young, of West Palm Beach, Fla., points out, "you must play well and be luck," The observation is a very sound one. Life and Bridge present us with countless opportunities to play well, but no matter how well we play, unless the factor of luck comes to our aid, we must inevitably frequently see our best plays defeated.

An illustration of the factors of luck and good play is given on the hand and come well for the factor of luck and good play is given on the hand and complishment, the hand must be well factor of its accomplishment, the hand must be well factor of its accomplishment, the hand must be well factor of its accomplishment, the hand must be well factor in facily again.

TODAY'S POINTER.

Success at the Bridge table is a combination of good bidding, good play and good luck. The factor of luck may not be able to control, but we can control the bidding and the play.

DIRECTORS OF CRACKERS WILL CARRY ON

Just a few pertinent remarks to prove to the Cracker direc tors that a few well-written ads would bring people flocking

1-Let people know that for the price of one admission to the baseball park they can see the ball game and also watch the girls in swimming at the pool just next door.

And I'm telling you, it's a show. The boys have told me about it. These hot days I haven't had the energy to climb up those steps and peer over the rail. But what the younger boys like Colonel Ed Danforth and Signor Morgan Blake tell me is plenty. It's a sight, what the girls are wearing these days.

And the pool isn't getting much of a play from the top rail of the grand stand. They say it's packed each afternoon and evening with the feminine youth and beauty of the city. And yesterday afternoon, right in the midst of a rally, there were only four or five fans standing around watching the swimming pool and its

One big ad-Watch the baseball game and the girls in swimming-no war tax on watching the girls-would do the Business would pick right up.

Especially—so they tell me—if they would put a hotograph of that blonde who wears a white suit right in the middle of the ad.

And if the directors are in need of another idea, well-What's wrong with dancing before and after the game and between innings?

Now that the loud speakers are in and the boys play waltzes -seductive records with the big tuba moaning—what's wrong with asking the boys to grab their frails, so to speak, and on with the dance?

Practically nothing at all is wrong with that idea. There is no reason to waste the music. It's good. And there is plenty of room. Let the players square dance on and off the field. Let them enjoy the games.

In support of the idea a couple of fans were interviewed yesterday afternoon. Gus Fann-Sure, I like to watch the girls in swimming. I stand up on top of the grand stand because it's so much cooler Yesterday I had to call up The Constitution and get the score when I got home, but then I had my choice—the game or the girls. And did you see that brunet? I never miss a baseball game.

George Phann—Certainly, I'd like to dance a while before the game and between innings. The music is there, isn't it? I sit there every day when they are playing those records and my feet just tingle. Of course, it may be that I have ahtlete's feet but I don't think so. I'm sure it's dancing that I need.

If these ideas won't bring out the fans, then nothing will.

OVER THE FENCE IS OUT.

It was about the fifth inning and the Crackers were ahead in the first game Friday afternoon at Ponce de Leon park. Suddenly an officer in the republican bleachers in left field dragged out his revolver and shot a couple of times into the air. A colored boy who had been messing around some parked automobiles and who had then climbed over a fence into the things like that happen almost every day?

That's where the excitement is. That's where life is. Pistols-girls in bathing-sweet music-runs for your life cushions—Coca-Cola—hot dogs—popcorn—peanuts—wait till I get my breath—all for the price of one.

"STONEWALL" ENGEL.

There was no second ballot on the split season. There might have been for Old Man Engel, Cousin Joe, over at Chattanooga. And the story of it is this:

A couple of days ago one of the Southern Associa tion owners whose team is in the first divsioin, is reported to have called up Cousin Joe on the telephone. "Joe," he said, according to one who listened in, "let's split this season and have some fun."

"Listen," said Joe, "I never got a sevor in this league. I asked for plenty and never got a one. And now, I'm going to play it out. I may win or lose. But we'll play it out.'

And so there was no second ballot. And unless someone can get to Cousin Joe with some heavy persuasion there won't

WELCOME, JOE KLUGMAN.

Joe Klugman, who was released by the Nashville club as manager, is coming to Atlanta. He was let out at Nashville because Nashville has an office which isn't sure of its own mind.

Klugman is a thorough gentleman, a fine ball player and a good hitter. He is an asset to any community or ball club.

He had his club in the first division. What do they want at Nashville when they know they haven't given Klugman what Chattanooga or Memphis have? The fans may give Joe a great hand and not go wrong.

TAGGING A FEW BASES.

Bobby Jones, who has seen quite a lot of fights in his tours about the golf world, thought Jack Sharkey won the fight from Grimes Must Pay Schmeling by a good margin. He also thought it was a swell boxing match—which it was. He didn't hear the radio report or he'd know better, of course. He just saw it.

Bill Daly, the Cracker trainer, has kept Chatham, shortstop, in the game despite a bad tendon in his leg. The Crackers have been in swell condition and Daly has done a great jeb.

Bill Pickens, who used to manage Barney Oldfield, was the man-about-camp at the Stribling training camp at Geauga Lake last summer. He is one of the best promotion men in sports.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 8.—(R)—A bench warrant was issued today for the arrest of Henry N. (Nick) Cullop, baseball player now with Columbus, of the American Association. It charged contempt of court resulting from alleged non-payment of alimony. His divorced wife claims Cullop was $525 in arrears after being ordered to pay $300 monthly during six months of the baseball season. The Columbus club, now in St. Paul. was due here Sunday for a series with the Millers.

Grimes Must Pay Alimony, Judge Rules. CANTON, Ohio, July 8.—(P)—Burleigh Grimes, Chicago Cub pitcher, may be nearly through as a big league hurler, but as an alimony payer he is just getting started. In court recently, Grimes asked Common Pleas Judge J. L. Floyd to reduce the amount of alimony he had been ordered to pay. Grimes said he would be unable to pay the amount ordered because he was "slipping" as a major league hurler and before long his earning capacity as a player would be reduced. In an order today Judge Floyd, who at the time the Grimes divorce was granted set the alimony figure at $8,000, ordered the twirler to pay $6,000 to Mrs. Grimes. HOISTS RED FLAG.

Two hundred yards from home Bob Mayer, Yale cox, hoisted a red flag—the signal for a desperate last minute spurt. Calling on their last ounce of strength, the blue boatload hoisted its stroke to a slugging 40. For a second the challenge went unanswered, and Penn's advantage was cut to half a length. Then the clubmen turned on the pressure, lifting their stroke to 39. That was the end. Running beautifully, the Penn shell streaked ahead, with every dip of the blades increasing its margin.

These demands of "make me a star" now being made by ambitious young pitchers over the Southern league were almost fulfilled by the New Orleans Pelicans yesterday.

Lefty Carrithers, just past voting age quelled the Atzmen in the first game of the double-header, 3 to 1, but Cannonball Casey, Red Barron's young sandlot right-hander, received a setback in the seven-inning aftermath and lost by the same score. The tried and true left arm of old Rube Marquard was summoned to the rescue in the fifth and finished the game with no runs.

Due to a change in the schedule Kirkwood, in the Piedmont league, and Northwest Atlanta, in the Dixie league, will meet at 3 o'clock this aft-ernoon at Almand Park. Both teams drew byes in the revis-ed schedule.

Cracker Officials Deny Split Ballot

Officials of the Atlanta base-ball club declared yesterday that if there has been a second bal-lot on a prospective split in the Southern league season, it had not been submitted to them. It is and has been an estab-lished fact that Joe Engel, of Chattanooga, was opposed to lished fact that Joe Engel, of Chattanooga, was opposed to such a move. But the only discussion, other than that carried on by the press, that the proposal has had was at the meeting of league directors in Memhis two weeks ago when the question of a spilt was voted down. At the time, Memphis, Birmingham and Chattanooga opposed it,

OLD OBLIGATIONS

Officials "Hanging On" and Looking Forward to Better Club.

By Ralph McGill.

Cracker directors, meeting at noon Friday, gave Manager Red Barron a verbal pat on the back, and assured the baseball fans that everything possible was being done to clear rway past obligations so that the new organization may step out with a baseball club.

The directors are suffering in silence, realizing that the public has not been made aware of the real facts of the situation. And the directors, composed of well-known Atlanta professional and businessmen, are doing a good job in taking care of a mass of obligations accumulated before they assumed control. They are willing to face the music but would like for the public to know a few facts. Some of them being:

HERE ARE THE FACTS.

1. The 1932 organization, a brandnew one, will carry on for the remainder of the year. (Thus dispelling reports they were ready-to give up).

mainder of the year. (Thus dispelling reports they were ready to give up).

2. When the present organization assumed control of the baseball club it also assumed obligations which demanded serious financing. Despite this the organization fixed a budget for the new club which would, in ordinary times, have been enough to go along with.

with turned around with an I-told-you-so look.

MAKER OF STARS.

"There he is boys, we'll make a bero of him," he said. Atz's tone was trenchardly sarcastic. He meant to impart to his men that they had just been drubbed by a stripling of a lefthander named Carrithers and unless they amapped out of it, they might be licked by Casey.

"We've sent more young pitchers out of the league this season than any other club." Atz continued. "We played one game against Logan, of Knoxville, and now he's been promoted to the American association. Maker of stars, that's us."

Well, Casey din't beat the Pels. The foxy Atz had his men to unleash a fancy bunting attack on him in the third finning and they bunted over three runs before he could get a belief of them out. The first game was well pitched by Carrithers and the plump Mule Shirley cavorted about first in sparkling fashion, handling two unassisted double plays. The Crackers made six during the afternoon to boost their record.

KEUGMAN SIGNED.

Thesteams close the series with a single game today at 2:30 p. m. Red Barron announced, that Jo Jo Klugman, former manager of the Nashville Wols, would report during the mortoing and possibly would be inserted in the lineup for today's game. Just what position Jo Jo will play is not yet known, but it is likely be will be made and Atz announced he would work Ray Moss, the ex-major leaguer.

SEW ORLEANS—ab. 7. h. ps. a. s. flook, 35. h. s. ps. a. s 3. What the organization would like the public to know is that the organ-ization knows the ball club is not as

All other businesses have had reduced incomes and baseball is no exception. Theaters have "cut" operating expenses all around. Some have been forced to close. Attendance is off.

HOPE FOR BEST.

HOPE FOR BEST.

The organization hopes yet to place the Crackers in the running. Had a split season, defeated for the second time this week on a secret ballot when Joe Engel, of Chattanooga, voted "no," the Crackers would have had a better chance. The club is already playing better ball with the addition of Mule Shirley's punch. When Joe Klugman, former Nashville manager, is placed in the lineup, his bat is expected to help things.

While the directors are taking the rap stoically and without asking for quarter, they would appreciate the fans seeing the situation as it is and recognizing that the present organization was handicapped rather heavily at the start and can, at best, hope but to clear things up so that the 1933 season will find them unencumbered.

But don't give up the ship. There is yet hope. Si Rosenthal is to sing over the microphone and there is a new player coming. The Crackers may yet be up there.

What the Market Did.

BY JOHN L. COOLEY.

NEW YORK, July 8.—(P)—Security markets today made a generally negative response to news that France and Germany had settled reparations arguments.

Stocks were mildly cheerful at the opening, by which time Lausanne dispatches had announced the settlement, but the smattering of gains was quickly dissipated. The list refused to manifest enthusiasm over what had happened abroad and closing prices were errigularly lower.

manifest enthusiasm over what happened abroad and closing prices were errigularly lower.

Sales totaled 720,288 shares.
Utilities had to take more or less selling all day. American Telephone was down 2 net. Peoples Gas lost 4. Industrials were sluggish but reasonably steady. United States Steel was off slightly at the close. American Tobacco "B" was steady. General Motors traded quietly. In rails, Union Pacific went to a new low, off 11-2 net.

Mercantile reviews said there had been some let-down in retail buying, a natural aftermath of the holiday, but that on the whole merchandising volume had turned in a fairly good record this week.

Cotton was helped by a somewhat larger acreage decrease than had been expected from the July 1 estimate. Sugar futures maintained their rising reputation and trading in them was lively.

Foreign Markets

LOMDON—Trading continued cheerful and the general improvement was strengthened by news of the Franco-German agreement t Labsanne. Gilt-edged securities and German and Austrian bonds were preminent, while Japanese and Brasilian bonds eased. The closing was firm.

PARIS—Despite weakness in New York the market developed atrength which continued despite profit-taking. French rentes were firmer on covering and international bares were strong. The close was firm.

BERLIN—Prices fluctuated on the boerse with irregular movements, variations ranging as much as 2 points either way.

DOBES & CO.

NEW YORK, July S.—It was fortunate that the agreement at Lausanne was announced at a time when the domestic picture was beclouded by developments at Washington and reports emphasising the extent of the business depression. Had the situation in congress offered hope of early action on relief legislation and subsequent adjournment, we feel that the response to the Lausanne accord on reparations and inter-European, war debts would have been favorable both as to compodities and stocks. We view it as significant that the further weakness of the stock market did not invite active liquidation of representative bonds and that the foreign group added to recent gains on buying credited chiefly to toreign sources.

CHICAGO, July 8.-(P) Grain values averaged higher today, influenced by favorable reports on economic prospects abroad as a result many's war reparations. Giving some stimulus to wheat buyers was a New York stock market afternoon rally which, however, flattened out later when wheat trading here had ended.

Wheat closed unsettled, at the same as yesterday's finish to 3-8 higher, corn unchanged to 5-8 up, oats unchanged to 12 cents down.

Corn and oats mostly imitated the action of wheat. France and Ireland bought a few loads of white corn at the seaboard.

Profit-taking sales eased the provision market, although hog values were again higher.

Daily Bond Averages.

NEW YORK, July 8.-(P)-The nd market today received the anncement of a reparations agreeby European nations with an-outburst of well-sustained buyng of foreign government bonds, ing of foreign government bonds.

Domestic issues were somewhat mixed. The U. S. government group reflected some selling in the treasury issues while the Liberty Bonds went higher with a single exception.

Industrial and utility bonds lifted while railroad bonds lost a fraction gains completely erasing losses so far as the Associated Press-Standard statistics averages were concerned, the index closing at the same level as yesterday. Transactions totaled $11,641,000 par amount.

German government bonds especially benefited from the Lausanne announcement. Both the 7s and 5 1-2s sold in new high ground and closed respectively at 66 3-4, up 1 1-4, and 47 1-4, up 3 1-4.

Other foreign bonds which ran up 2 or more points included government issues of the Argentine, Colombia, Denmark, Greece, Haiti, Sweden and some Italian and Swedish municipals.

Turnover in the U. S. government list was fairly large.

Judge Frank Guess, of the city court of Decatur, is expected to announce his decision this morajing on the appeal by counsel for C. B. Childress Jr., for reconsideration of his act in revoking a three-month suspended sentence imposed on the Childress youth, who faces reckless driving charges in Atlanta as the result of a fatal automobire accident.

William Schley Howard, attorney for young Childress, late Friday afternoon said he had conferred with Judge Guess with a view to persuading the Decatur judge to rescind his revocation action. Childress was sent to the DeKalb chain gang Thursday on an old charge of drunkenness on the highway, scarcely an hour after he had surrendered to Atlanta police and made $2,000 bond on a reckless driving case involving the recent death of Felton Allen O'Kelley, 17-year-old Tech High student.

Hearing on the Atlanta charges against Childress was deferred until September when it became known that DeKalb authorities would take Childress into immediate custody on the old charge. Childress disappeared for more than a week following the fatal accident in which O'Kelley was killedand his girl companion, Miss Frankie Mae Davis, 15, was injected when Childress', car struck them during a party in front of the Davis girl's home.

able response to the agreement at Lausanne on reparations and war debts was a distinct disappoinment. Considering the importance of the news, the fact that innumerable stocks declined to new low levels was even more discouraging.

Failure of the list to respond to the foreign developments can be attributed to the absence of buying power and liquidation, which continues to filter into the market.

Due to lack of buying power, stocks offered have to be sold at price concessions, hence the decline today to new low levels for such representative shares as American Telephone & Telegraph, Union Pacific, Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, Coca-Cola, International Business.

Machines and Eastman Kodak.

DOMESTIC NEWS BAD.

Domestic developments continued unfavorable and included such discouraging reports as a decrease of 53 per cent in the June sales of the General Motors Corporation, dividend reductions by a number of firms, further declines in sales of chain stores and a few unfavorable statements of earnings for the second quarter.

Commodity prices continued to display a firm undertone, but statisticians have estimated that the buying power of the farmer this year will be further reduced by reason of smaller crops and lower prices than experienced last year. Because of this view, some selling has developed in J. I. Case Threshing Machine.

LOCAL BANK STOCKS UP.

The favorable foreign news on reparations had its best impression on stocks of local banks, which advanced sharply early in the day and maintained most of their gains. Increased demand for these suses was attributed to a belief that settlement of the reparations and war debts has strengthened the possibility of payment of German private credits made by American banking institutions.

The sharp advance in foreign government bonds, further extended to higher prices mean appreciation in the holdings of those securities by the banking institutions.

FOREIGN BONDS.

NEW YORK, July 8.—(F) The NEW YORK, July 8.—(P)—The curb market drifted irregularly lower today, as the utilities encountered further liquidation. Selling at no time reached large proportions, however, for the day's turnover was only 60,000 shares.

Electric Bond & Share closed at 51-2 off 1-4. The preferred issues were higher, the 6 per cent issue rising 2 points. Some preferred dissues broke sharply in light dealings.

Among soft apots in the industrials was McCord Radiator B, trading at 11-8, against 21-2 previously. Oils were fairly steady, moving narrowly.

WIDE BREAK SHOWN IN COCA-COLA ISSUE

NEW YORK, July 8.—(A)—The stock market received a visit from a comparative stranger today, as 10 shares of Coca-Cola International were sold at $171 a share.

It was the first time this issue had appeared on the ticker tape since October 9, 1930, when 10 shares traded at $348 a share. Today's transaction, thereafter, more than cut the open market quotation in half, if no account is taken of the $25 in dividends paid since the preceding transaction.

dends paid since the preceding trans-action.

Coca-Cola International Corporation is a holding company for the Coca-Cola Company. It was formed 10 years ago to hold a large block of Coca-Cola stock to continue control by the original management.

In "As You Desire Me" Miss Garbo enacts the role of a temperamental Budapest cafe entertainer who is mistaken by an Italian nobleman for the wife whom he thought to have been killed by invaders during the World War. In order to escape the demands of a ruthless novelist who has a hypnotic influence over her, Garbo resolves to enact the bluff of the nobleman's wife, a game which proves to be as dangerous as it is diverting. The novelist stops at nothing in his attempt to bring the erstwhile cabaret singer back into his power, and she is forced to match her wits against his in order to defend her masquerade. The result is the most adventurous, intriguing and romantic drama in which the fascinating Swedish actress has yet been seen.

In addition to this splendid feature the Paramount management, has spared no time and effort in making the first of the all-sound programs a perfect one. The Mills brothers, favorite radio music makers, will be seen in a musical short. A riotous comedy playing up some of the oldest screen stars in a screen souvenir type of story, an interesting novelty, "Strange As It Seems," and the Paramount news reel complete the program.

It is to be imagined, however, that his election was not so good an event for his state. Dark Horse," Hollywood's satire on politics, which stars Warren William

It is, by the very nature of things, a comedy. A political convention, hopelessly deadlocked in efforts to nominate a candidate for governor, names a "dark horse" a man never heard of before, hoping thus to break the deadlock. To their surprise the "dark horse" is nominated. He turns out to be a particularly dumb dumbbell from "the sticks," and the situation is pretty hopeless unless a brilliant campaign manager is employed.
